2025 Forestry and Natural Resources Webinar Series

What is it? This webinar series explores aspects of Maryland's forests and natural resources. Each session will cover the basics of concepts linked to Maryland's forests, then highlight recent, relevant research advancing the field.

Who this is for? Anyone interested in learning about Maryland's forested landscape! Including landowners, natural resource professionals, educators, students, etc.

Other questions? Contact Daniel Pratson, Natural Resources Specialist, at dpratson@umd.edu with questions or accommodation requests prior to each webinar.
